DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicant's responses filed on Nov 12, 2007 and Apr 23, 2007. Claims 1-3, 5-13, 15-20 are pending in the present application.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1 recites an apparatus for a radio communication system having a mobile node operable to communicate with a network part of a communication network and limitations for the following: "an indexer embodied at the mobile node, the indexer for indexing the first short dialing code that identifies, at the mobile node, the first service center, together with a corresponding first network-part identifier code returned to the mobile node responsive to the request generated by the identifier code request generator; and a transposer coupled to the indexer and selectably operable responsive to initiation of call placement by the user of the call to the first service center using the first mobile-node identifier code, used by the user pursuant to the initiation, into the first network-part identifier code". Examiner interprets an indexer, as recited above, that indexes together a first short dialing code an a corresponding first network-part identifier code that is returned to the mobile node; and a transposer, as recited is above, that operates responsive to initiation of a call placement using the first mobile-node identifier code into a network-part code. The specification supports these limitations [Fig. 1; page 15, line 10 to page 16, line 2; page 22, line 16 to page 24, line 20]. Figure 7 illustrates the implementation. In this context, the applicant's arguments are persuasive. The prior art of record does not teach these limitations. Therefore, claim 1 is indicated allowable.

Claim 13 is essentially similar to claim 1 and hence is indicated allowable. Further, claims 2-3 and 5-12 being dependent from claim 1, and claims 15-20 being dependent from claim 13 are also indicated allowable.

New search updates reveal no other prior art which teaches the limitations in the context of the claims.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
